SOUTH-CAROLINA GAZETTE,

MONDAY, May 6th, 1745. [Numb. 580.]

CHARLES-TOWN, April 30.

ON the 26th Inſtant, the Emperor of the Cherokee Indians, with moſt of the head Men of that Nation, and many of the principal Warriors and others (to the Number of One Hundred and Thirty) arrived in Town: And at the ſame time came the King of the Catawba's, with Eighteen of the head Men of that Nation.

The Cherokees had not been in this Province for ſome Years, and had ſent ſome Months ago to the Governor, to acquaint him that they intended to viſit him, to renew their ancient Friendſhip with this Government and to get Commiſſions: They were received with great Ceremony and Civility, and after ſeeing every Thing in this Place they were ſent on board his Majeſty's Ship Aldborough, commanded by Capt Aſhby Utting, and then to Fort-Johnſon. And, having received large Preſents (given them by the Public and likewiſe by His Excellency) they ſet out on Saturday laſt on their Return to their own Country, highly pleaſed and ſatisfied with their kind Treatment.

At their firſt Conference with the Governor in the Council Chamber (in the Preſence of the Council, moſt of the Members of Aſſembly, and many of the Inhabitants) His Excellency told them, 'That he was glad to ſee them and was 'ready to hear what they had to ſay.' But the Emperor (addreſſing himſelf to the Governor) ſaid, 'You, Sir, are our Eldeſt 'Brother.' Upon which His Excellency ſpoke as follows.

IN Name of the Great King GEORGE, our ſupreme Head and Sovereign, and in Name of all the White People of Carolina, I bid you, the Emperor of the Cherokees, and you, the King of the Catawbas, heartily Welcome to Charles-Town.

And thoſe your beloved Men, Your grave Councellors, and brave Warriors, Men truly wiſe and valiant, are likewiſe Welcome.

You are come to ſtrengthen and confirm the ancient Friendſhip and Union that was made by your Forefathers with this Government, and it is a ſingular Pleaſure to me to ſee you tread in their Steps, to find that you purſue the ſame Path of Virtue with your renowned Anceſtors, and that your Adherence and Fidelity to this Government is as ſteady and unſhaken as Theirs.

And this I learn, not by common Fame only, but by your Actions, and by the friendly and brotherly Letters and Meſſages which you ſent me, promiſing an inviolable Attachment to the Britiſh Intereſt.

May the good Correſpondence that at preſent ſubſiſts betwixt this Government and the Cherokee and Catawba Nations always continue; may the Chain of Friendſhip by which we are linked together be for ever bright and clear like the Sun in its Meridian Splendor without Spots and Clouds; may it remain firm, fixed and immoveable, like your native Mountains.

And in order thereto, I ſhall give immediate Directions for Commiſſions under the great Seal of this Province to you, Sir, as Emperor of the Cherokees, and to you, as King of the Catabaws, requiring all your People to obey you as their Rulers: Theſe Offices belong to you by Birth, you likewiſe hold them by a better Tenure, the Deſires and Wiſhes of a willing People, and laſtly they will be confirmed to you by the Commiſſion which I ſhall give you.

From henceforth let us all conſider ourſelves as Brothers, as Children of the ſame Family, of the ſame common Father, as Subjects of the ſame great King GEORGE, who is Head and Father and King over us all.

He is indeed a very powerful Prince and mighty Monarch; he rules over many great and flouriſhing Kingdoms, over many fair and fertile Countries, his Subjects are rich and wealthy, ſtrong and mighty, and numerous as the Stars of Heaven, as the Trees in your thick Woods or as the Leaves on thoſe Trees.

But who is able to deſcribe the Greatneſs of our King; ſhould I attempt it, Words would be wanting, neither would the Day be ſufficient.

And yet his Greatneſs is exceeded by his Goodneſs, his chief Happineſs conſiſts in the Happineſs of his People, he deſpiſes Danger and ſurmounts Difficulties that would oppoſe their Welfare, he ſubmits to Toil and Fatigue to purchaſe Reſt and Quiet to his Subjects, he often watches that they may ſleep in Security.

Rejoice therefore you Cherokee and Catabaw Nations, and join your Joy with the white People of Carolina, that we are the Subjects of ſuch a Prince, one ſo great and good, the Delight of his own People, the Dread of his Enemies, the Stay and Support of ſinking States, the Scourge of proud and perfidious Princes.

This the Spaniards (with whom we have been at War for ſome Years) are now ſenſible of; This the French (againſt whom we have lately declared War will ſoon feel to their Coſt.

But as we are at War with both theſe Nations, and as our Enemies are your Enemies, I expect, that whenever I ſend for you, you will all come at my Call againſt the common Enemy, and likewiſe, that you will not ſuffer any Agents or Emiſſaries from them, either French or Indian, to come amongſt you, to withdraw you from your Duty and to alienate your Hearts from this Government, but that you will apprehend them and deliver them to our Traders to be ſent to me.

I ſhall give Directions, that the Traders that may be ſent to you be ſuch as love your Nation, Men of Honeſty and Probity, who will not over reach or impoſe upon you; and if any ſhall do it (upon your Application to me) I will ſend others in their Room.

I ſhall give Directions, that they be well ſupplied with ſuch Goods as are proper for your Trade, but I recommend to you, to be ſparing in the Uſe of Rum, which in Time will enervate you, ſo as to render you unfit either for War or Hunting; and in general, I muſt inform you, that many of our People being in the Wars, Goods of all kinds are dearer and dearer than at other Times.

Should any of the Traders kill any of your People, I will cauſe to puniſh him as if he had he had kill'd a white Man. And in like Manner, ſhould any Indian kill a white Man, he muſt be delivered up to me, to be puniſhed as ſo great a Crime deſerves. I hope, that none of your People will take Goods from the Traders at their own Hands, or break open any of their Stores; and ſhould any preſume to do it, I deſire that you the Rulers and Headmen may ſee them puniſh'd; and in general, I recommend to you, to be kind to our Traders, juſt in your Dealings with, and punctual in paying them their Debts.

The great King our Royal Maſter, whom I have already mentioned, (of whoſe Magnificence many of the Cherokees now dead have been Eye Witneſſes,) has ſent me to this Country, to be the Father of all his White and Red Red People: You are come far to ſee me, and to hear my Words; I have now ſpoken. And I deſire, That you will remember what I have ſaid, that when you return among your own People you may tell it to the young Men and old Men, to your Wives and to your Children, that it may be remember'd to the lateſt Generations. I for my Part, ſhall remember what I have ſaid, and faithfully perform what I have promiſed.

I have ordered Preſents to be made ready ready for you, which ſhall be delivered to you in a few Days; and I ſhall be glad then to hear what you have to ſay to me.

I deliver back thoſe Articles and I ſhall order, that your Commiſſions be renewed. And alſo, my Talk ſhall be delivered to you in Writing, and the great Seal affixed thereto.

CHARLES-TOWN, May 6.

This Day arrived here 3 Privateers, with 2 large French Prizes. The Particulars in our next.

The Sumter Privateer, of this Port, William Edwards Commander, was lately loſt among the Bahama's.

This Morning arrived here the Snow Hector of this Port, Capt. Rogers, from Briſtol He ſail'd in Company with eight other Veſſels, under Convoy of the Port-Mahon Man of War, and about 100 Leagues off the Coaſt of Ireland, they fell in with a Squadron of French Men of War, who took the whole Fleet, except the Hector —— The lateſt Advices from England by Capt. Rogers, are,

That there was a Report in France, that Admiral Rowley's Squadron up the Straights, had taken two French Men of War of 64 Guns each.

That the Lords of the Admiralty had made a ſtrict Enquiry, and ordered all the Men of War unfit for Service to be rebuilt with the greateſt Diſpatch; The Carpenters, Smiths, &c. to work double Tides and Sundays.

That two large Fleets were fitting out, one to cruize, the other to guard the Coaſts, who are to relieve each other occaſionally.

That the King of Portugal had reſolved to obſerve a ſtrict Neutrality, notwithſtanding the very great Offers that have been made by a certain Power.

That the Genoeſe have declared themſelves the Allies of France and Spain, and will join their Armies this Spring.

That Colonel Douglas, with proper Attendants, was gone to Hanover, to bring over Marſhal Belle Iſle and his Brother. And that moſt People both at Home and Abroad agree, That the Marſhal's being ſeized was a deſigned Thing, to throw himſelf into the Hands of thoſe to whom he ſhould be able to make ſome Propoſitions, with which ('tis ſaid) he was charged.

That the Dauphin of France was married to the Infanta of Spain.

And, That Admiral Torres with 4 Men of War, was ſafely arrived at Corunna, from the Havanna, and had brought to the Amount of 9,000,000 Pieces of 8; 8,000,000 for the Merchants, and 1,000,000 for the King.

Some Time laſt Week the Antipædobaptiſts of this Place had another Hearing before the Lower Houſe of Aſſembly, and the Rev Mr. Thomas Simmonds (their Miniſter, declar'd, upon Oath, That the unhappy Difference now ſubſiſting between him and his People (whom he ſaid he ſtill lov'd in Sincerity) was owing to his having given a gentle Reproof to Mr. W—ſ—d, for recommending very ſtrongly a Book entitled The Country Parſon's Advice to his Pariſhioners, the Author of which ſeems to be as great a Friend to Popery as Archbiſhop Tillotſon was its Enemy, or the Author of The Whole Duty of Man to Bigotry and factious Teachers. Nevertheleſs, we remember that Mr. W—d excus'd himſelf by ſaying he had not read the Book when he recommended it. Thomas a Kempis recommended as ſtrongly was a known Papiſt; And there are many Things in the Writings and Conduct of dear Mr. W—ſ—y, that look very wiſhfully towards his HOLINESS's TOE, notwithſtanding the Biſhop of L—d—n is told in a late Letter, upon the Word of a Gentleman, that could not poſſibly know 'That the People called Methodiſts were 'to a Man true to THE KING, and that 'himſelf pray'd for King George '—Is it not ſtrange, That any Man ſhould pretend to know the Hearts of ſo many Thouſands? Can it be thought, That the Emiſſaries of Rome have been idle all theſe Days of wild Confuſion?

The CHEROKEE Emperor's Talk will be inſerted in our next.
